ADMINISTRATION MOVES TO HOLD ILLEGAL TAXES

Propose Statute to Prevent Restitution of Invalid Collection

Washington, July 18.—(AP)—The administration's proposal to close the courts to processing tax recovery suits was denounced today by Senator Borah (R-Idaho) as a step benefiting big companies which have passed the tax on to consumers but injuring small companies which have been unable to do so.

Debate on this controversial provision of the pending AAA amendment began after the Senate had voted against imposing a processing tax on taxon.

"Where there has been a wrong perpetrated, and property taken," Borah asserted, "I do not believe you can deny a man the right to go into court."

"It is true that some of the taxes have been passed on to the consumer by the large processing companies, but the small companies have been unable in many instances to do so and by reason of that have suffered."

Right to Sue Denied

"Thus we have a bill benefiting the companies who can pass the tax on, but denying the small companies the right to recovery."

He declared denial of the "right to sue the sovereign" has "been embodied in the law over the objection of some of the ablest members of our court."

"It is my contention," he declared, "that the right to sue should never be denied except in the rarest cases."

At the Justice Department, meanwhile, Attorney General Cummings issued a statement saying the recent decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals at Boston against the legality of AAA's processing fees would not prevent future collection of the taxes except in that particular case.

Attacks Trade Pact

Meanwhile, in a statement supporting his proposal to repeal the reciprocal tariff law by a rider to the AAA legislation, Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) said that the new trade agreement with Soviet Russia "cannot do other than discourage industry in this country."

"It is inconceivable," McCarran said, "that while the energy of the American public and Congress is bent toward the upbuilding of commercial life and industrial life in this country, the State Department should enter a reciprocal trade agreement to bring commodities and products from Russia, with all its attendant deplorable labor conditions, into competition with American industry and American products."

The Senate forged ahead today on the changed AAA bill, with lengthy debate barred and administration leaders hopeful of quick action.

No Price Fixing

One phase of the price fixing authority was clipped from the farm adjustment amendments—a reversal of the chamber's previous stand.

The Senate by a vote of 44 to 41 met its previous 40 to 38 approval of a price fixing provision. This would have permitted the Secretary of Agriculture, with the approval of half of the handlers of any commodity, to fix the re-sale price.

After the vote Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, declared:

"The Senate undoubtedly has over-estimated the importance of those price fixing provisions. They are not an essential feature of the amendments by any means."

No Let Up On Plans

Action on the amendment came shortly after direct word from the President that he believed it wise to proceed with the amendments regardless of the adverse circuit court ruling in Boston on the processing tax. He said the farm program would continue until there is a Supreme Court ruling.

Those opposed to the price fixing feature, said that other language in the House-written bill, touching on the same issue, would be taken up as soon as Senate amendments were disposed of.

Belfast Celebration Claims Seventh Victim

Belfast, Northern Ireland, July 18.—(AP)—The disorders arising from the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne claimed a seventh victim today with the death from a sniper's shot of James Andrews, sole supporter of his blind parents.

The charred ruins of 15 houses burned during the night were guarded against looters by 150 special officers.

May Do "Stretch"

Several Dixon baseball players, members of the Independent team, may serve a brief stretch in the Joliet state penitentiary, if the plans of Business Manager Frank Daschbach do not miscarry. The Dixon Index may have an opportunity of playing a game of baseball with the prison team within the prison walls this summer. Daschbach has written the management of the team made up of inmates of the penitentiary, asking for a game. The Independents have met some of the strongest teams of northern Illinois thus far this summer and have not met defeat.

ELKS TREASURER ELECT IS FOUND DEAD THIS MORN

Wm. Robertson, Minneapolis, Died During Night in Bed

Columbus, O., July 18.—(AP)—William C. Robertson, 48, of Minneapolis, Minn., Grand Treasurer of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was found dead in his hotel room today.

Friends expressed a belief that Robertson had died in his sleep from heart disease.

Robertson was elected Grand Treasurer during Tuesday's session of the national reunion of the Elks. He was to have been installed with other new Grand Lodge officers at the closing session today.

NEWTON LODGE WINS

The Newton, Mass., Lodge team won ritualistic honors convention late yesterday. The winners scored 98.5 points in the annual degree team contest.

Monmouth, Ill., was second with 98.19 and Newark, O., third with 97.79. Other teams finished in this order: Decatur, Ia., 97.50; Colorado Springs, Colo., 97.49; Kalamazoo, Mich., 94.77; Tallahassee, Fla., 97.17, and Great Bend, Kans., 96.08.

A gigantic parade of 50 floats and 35,000 persons will climax the convention today.

Seek Brothers' Slayer in Chicago After Tip

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—Search for the slayer of Edward and John Burmeister, Tuscola gargemen, shifted to Chicago today. H. L. Tate, State's Attorney of Douglas county, requested the Cook county sheriff's office and Chicago police to watch highways leading into this city for a suspect described as about 30 years old, with black hair and moustache. His car was said to be gray-green in color, with a "Touring Canada" sticker on the windshield.

Freeport Boxer Meets Death in Pecatonica

Freeport, Ill., July 18.—(AP)—Menyan Boomgarner, 26, amateur boxer, was drowned yesterday while wading in the Pecatonica river. Adam Smith, Boomgarner's companion on a fishing trip, narrowly escaped death while attempting to rescue his friend. The body was recovered today.

Stork Beats Auto

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—The stork not only beat the automobile this time—it carried a double load. Twin sons were born to Mrs. Jean Grimm, 29, during a pause as a police patrol was rushing her to County Hospital. Two policemen assisted the physician in front of whose home they stopped. The group continued to the hospital where the boys were reported as weighing seven and eight pounds respectively and "doing well."

Sixty Chicago Organizations to Fight Kelly's Coney Island Plan

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—Sixty civic organizations, united in a "lake front defense committee," prepared today to do battle in the courts, over the proposed use of 180 acres of lake front property for a civic center in the nature of a permanent fair.

Termining the project a "Coney Island," the organizations directed their attack on enabling legislation which Mayor Edward J. Kelly sponsored in the state legislature and which Governor Henry Horner allowed to become a law without his signature.

While the committee was preparing its plans, Kelly was conferring with Maj. Lenox Lohr, formerly general manager of A Century of Progress Exposition and Kelly's choice for manager of the permanent fair, over plans for the project.

The enabling bill stated the property could be used for "expositions, theatricals, cinema exhibitions, concerts, recitals, lectures, amusement devices, convention halls, public restaurants, stadia, athletic fields, athletic contests and games and other forms and places of public entertainment."

MRS. WALEY IS CONTENT WITH JAIL SENTENCE

Unaware She Must Wait Much Longer to See Husband

Tacoma, Wash., July 18.—(AP)—Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley, convicted Weyerhaeuser kidnaper, expressed satisfaction with her 20-year sentence today, unaware that she must wait much longer than she expected to rejoin her husband. Harmon M. Waley, husband of the 19-year-old blonde, was transferred to Alcatraz island prison yesterday and at the same time a Washington state detainer was filed against him. This action doubles the time the kidnaper must serve before a possible reunion with his wife.

Waley, who confessed to the abduction of the nine-year timber fortune heir, George Weyerhaeuser, may still be released after 30 years for good conduct but he may never be paroled. If the detainer had not been filed he would have been eligible for parole after serving 15 years of his 45-year sentence.

Mrs. Waley, who contentedly accepted her sentence because "it will make it easier for Harmon," is expected to be taken to the Federal women's detention farm at Milan, Mich., within a week.

She was sentenced by Federal Judge E. E. Cushman in Federal district court after he had rejected motions for an arrest of judgment and a new trial.

"Now every day will bring me nearer to Harmon," she said as she asked her attorney not to appeal.

Farm Land Increases in Worth 20 Per Cent in Last Three Years

St. Louis, July 18.—(AP)—Based on its own sales experience, the Federal land bank reported today that the market value of farm lands in Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas has increased about 20 per cent, or $10 an average acre, since 1932.

Good farms in the three states, the bank said, are bringing from $125 to $175 an acre, $25 to $50 an acre more than they did three years ago. Medium to good lands are up about $10 an acre from 1932 and sell from $30 to $60 an acre. Low grade farms have shown little increase and are on the market at from $10 to $25 an acre.

Since January 1, the bank has sold 252 farms for an aggregate of $772,090. These sales adequately reflect general farm conditions throughout the district, the bank said.

DESTRUCTION OF LOBBY RECORDS ADMITTED TODAY

Associated Gas & Electric Employees Tell of Activities

Washington, July 18.—(AP)—Testimony that an official of the Associated Gas & Electric Company, soon after the senate lobby investigation was ordered, instructed his subordinates to get rid of all records in connection with their campaign against the utilities bill was received today by the lobby committee.

E. W. O'Brien, Erie, Pa., Associated official said he had been directed by U. E. Beach, manager of the securities department of Associated at Ithaca, N. Y., to dispose of his records. He said he placed them in a wastebasket.

Immediately, O'Brien added, he told all his branch offices to get rid of their records.

"Did Beach say to you that the company was going to destroy every record it had everywhere in the United States in connection with the Wheeler bill?" asked Chairman Black.

"I don't remember," was the reply.

O'Brien said Beach told him, "we had no longer use of our legislative records—that we were through with utility legislation."

R. P. Herron, bond salesman of Warren, Pa., who sent several hundred telegrams to members of congress against the legislation, said he had "burned" his records after O'Brien had told him there was to be an investigation and he should clear out his files.

O'Brien said the original campaign against the Wheeler-Rayburn disbursement bill was arranged at a conference of his company's security managers from 26 states at Ithaca.

In March, he said, the managers were ordered by telephone to pay for the telegram drive in cash.

"Why not by check?" asked Senator Schwelmbach (D-Wash.).

Worked Quietly

"We were going around in a more or less quiet way," O'Brien said. He later said he didn't want any record of the checks.

"Didn't they want to conceal from senators and representatives the fact that these messages were bona fide?"

Finally, he said that "might have been" the motive.

The hearing recessed until 10 a. m. tomorrow after T. B. Kingsbury, Washington manager of the Western Union, said a complete check showed 97,265 utility bill telegrams costing $58,359 had been received by representatives during the week preceding the house vote on the utilities bill.

In addition, he said 30,000 costing around $18,000 had been received for senators the eight days previous.

American Editor in Custody Nazi Police

Berlin, July 18.—(AP)—M. C. Harbeck, the American editor of the German edition of the magazine "Golden Age," published in Berne, Switzerland, by the International Bible Students Society, was arrested today by Berlin secret police.

Harbeck, early this evening, was being held at secret service headquarters, but had been permitted to communicate with the United States Consulate General.

Harbeck was charged with attempting to remove money from attached property and of maintaining connections with the Watchtower Bible Society, an organization forbidden by the Nazi government.

It was also alleged that as editor of the Golden Age issue, printed in Berne, he continuously carried attacks in the journal against the present German regime.

WPA PROJECTS SENT ON

Chicago—Robert J. Dunham, Illinois administrator for the works progress administration, announced projects totaling $877,000 in Franklin, Will, LaSalle, Vermillion, Adams, Kane, Macon and Cook counties had been sent to Washington for approval.

FUGITIVE CAPTURED

Chicago—Joseph (Little New York) Guerin, 27, convicted robber who police said was identified in a bank holdup in suburban Park Ridge and in a department store robbery, was seized in his home as he slept.

CHARGES DEFAMATION

Chicago—Mrs. Lucinda Mandel, 39, filed suit for $200,000 damages against her mother-in-law, Mrs. Nellie Mandel, alleging defamation of character.

Apples Are Rotting

Hardin, Ill., July 18.—(AP)—Orchardists estimated today that nearly 140,000 bushels of apples are rotting in the orchards of Calhoun county, because growers receive from 4 to 15 cents less for each bushel than it costs to prepare the apples for market.

Growers generally attributed the poor prices to the fact that markets, particularly St. Louis, are flooded with Illinois transplants, principal stock of the local orchards. St. Louis commission men have been paying from 25 to 50 cents a bushel for apples. Growers compute the marketing cost at an average of 47 cents per bushel.

TERSE ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED IN DIXON DURING DAY

DESPICABLE THIEVES

Despicable thieves are again active in Oakwood cemetery, taking new baskets from new graves and leaving the flowers to wilt on the ground. Police hope to apprehend the culprits.

MAYOR'S SON HONORED

William Slothower, Jr., son of Mayor and Mrs. Wm. V. Slothower, was elected Supreme Sentinel of the Supreme Junior lodge of the Fidelity Life Assn. in its grand convention in Fulton last evening. The mayor's son received the largest majority of any of the supreme officers elected.

SEEK INFORMATION

George Christopher of 294 Wardwell ave., Staten Island, N. Y., has written The Telegraph asking information concerning the branch of the Christopher family who live or lived in or near Sublette. He says a Thomas Christopher moved from Staten Island to Sublette between 1850 and 1880 and is seeking data on him and his descendants, as he is compiling a genealogy of the Christophers.

SERPENTS TO PICNIC

The eleventh annual picnic of Casabel Lair, No. 7, Military Order of the Serpent will be held at Jack McCue's picnic grounds along Rock river west of Sterling Sunday, July 28. Spanish War veterans, members of the Auxiliaries and families are welcome. Mayor Becker of Savanna will deliver the principal address. A fine program of entertainment features is being arranged and it is expected that many of the Dixon veterans and their families will attend.

SALESMAN'S CAR ROBBED

J. B. Rende, tobacco salesman of Rockford, had about $50 worth of tobacco and pipes stolen from his car which was parked on Depot avenue south of Seventh street yesterday. The salesman had locked his car and was calling on dealers in Dementtown when some one succeeding in lowering one of the windows and removed several cartons of cigarettes, smoking tobacco and pipes. Mr. Rende reported the theft to the police today and an investigation was being made. His entire stock of briar pipes was stolen.

EARLY PRACTICE TABOO

Police were called upon at 3 o'clock this morning to convince an amateur musician that this was not the hour to practice his organ lessons but was recognized as a rest period. Neighbors complained to the police at the early hour before day break, that the musician had continued throughout the night to review numerous airs, popular, patriotic and sentimental on an old organ and that the crescendo notes had materially disturbed the slumbers of many. Officers had no difficulty in locating the address and informed the musician that a reputation of the early morning practice period would subject him to arrest and the imposition of a fine.

Seven of Entombed Miners Found Dead in Kentucky Shaft

Van Lear, Ky., July 18.—(AP)—Seven of the nine men entombed by a coal mine explosion here yesterday were found dead by rescue workers today, and all hope was abandoned for the other two.

The bodies were brought to the surface, one by one, in mine railway cars.

John F. Daniel, Lexington, chief of the state department of mines and minerals, expressed belief that all nine had been killed instantly by gas.

Some of the bodies had been crushed by falling slate and coal.

TWO MAJOR HIGHWAY JOBS GIVEN CO. INSPECTION

Road & Bridge Committee Made Trip to Two Projects

Members of the road and bridge committee of the board of supervisors were on an inspection trip with County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake today, inspecting two major improvements now under way. The committee first visited the site of the Rockford bridge west of Amboy, where a new concrete structure will span Green river. Contractor R. R. Beard of LaMoille has started work on building the footings for the new bridge which will be constructed under state plans, which provide for two 50-foot spans and a 20-foot roadway. When completed, this bridge will be one of the most modern in Lee county.

The committee also inspected the work now under way in the building of the West Brooklyn spur. Contractor O'Brien of Morris has a force of men at work grading the road north of the village of West Brooklyn to the point where it intersects with the old Chicago road. Another force is engaged in building the bridges and culverts. The road when completed will extend north, connecting with the proposed state route 71. One of the heavy grades on the old Chicago road is being cut down to provide fill for the intersection of the two roads. The highway known as the Brooklyn trail, north of the Chicago road has been closed to traffic while culverts are being constructed and grading operations are carried on.

Woman's Body Found in Chicago Sewer is Not That of Murderer

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—The discovery of a woman's body in a Chicago sewer gave an exciting turn today to the hunt for Mrs. Evelyn Smith, 35, sought in the "swamp murder" of Ervin Lang, 28.

Investigators who rushed to the 78th street scene decided, however, that the victim had been killed three months ago. Mrs. Smith, accused by Lang's mother-in-law, Mrs. Blanche Dunkel, of strangling Lang and severing his legs, vanished eight days ago.

A repair squad found the body. The woman's hands were tied, and the body had been wrapped in linen.

Cummings Sidesteps Question About Capture of Wm. Dainard

Washington, July 18.—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings today avoided a direct question on whether William Mahan, called "the remaining principal" in the Weyerhaeuser kidnaping, had been captured.

Reporters at Cummings' weekly press conference asked about numerous reports from northwest points that Mahan, also known as Dainard, had been captured and was being secretly held by "G-men."

The attorney general replied: "I'll only say that no statement will be made at all until an authoritative statement is given out. I say this only to stop any further inquiries."

Norwegian-American Flier Forced to Return to Bennett Field

New York, July 18.—(AP)—Thor Solberg, Norwegian-American flier, rearranged the heavy load on his plane today awaiting a favorable moment for another start on his projected flight to Bergen, Norway. Solberg and his wireless operator, Paul Oksanen, took off from Floyd Bennett field yesterday, intending to make Montreal their first stop. Fifty minutes later they brought the plane, the Hov Erickson, back to the field, explaining it was tail-heavy and unmanageable in the air.

Adopted Daughter of Browning Seeks to Obtain Whole Fortune

New York, July 18.—(AP)—Coun- [tached to his will last October. It had been signed with an "X." Declared intestate property, the $300,000 will go to Mrs. Hood as next of kin.

The original will, which left $25,000-a-year income to Mrs. Hood, bequeathed 98 per cent of the estate to charity. It was this which Daniel A. Shirk, Mrs. Hood's counsel, planned to attack next. The law provides that no more than half of an estate can be left to philanthropies if relatives survive.

96 at 1 P. M. Today

Today is the hottest of the summer—the mercury in the government thermometer at Shuck & Bates store reaching 95 degrees at 1 o'clock. In Chicago the 1935 record high temperature of 91, registered July 11 was equaled at noon and Weather Forecaster C. A. Donnell predicted the mercury would reach 94 degrees there before the day is over.

Decision on Slot Machines Expected in Circuit Court

Judge Frank J. Sheehan of Galena will be in Dixon Friday where he will hand down a decision in the injunction proceedings instituted by former State's Attorney Mark C. Keller several weeks ago in behalf of the Mills Novelty Co., of Chicago. The temporary injunction prevents county law enforcing officers as well as the city officials of Dixon and Amboy from interfering with slot machines manufactured by the Mills firm. Attorney Clyde Smith was named special master in chancery to conduct hearings and these were held at the court house during the spring term when an expert from the manufacturing firm was present, contending that the machines were not a gambling device. Special Master Smith has completed his report of the hearings which he has submitted to Judge Sheehan, who upon his visit here Friday will decide whether the injunction is to become permanent or be dissolved.

Drunken Motorist Chased Boy Through Field With His Car

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—Charles Pynakker, 24, was charged with driving while intoxicated and assault with intent to kill today after police alleged he chased a boy through a field with his automobile and ran him down. The boy, Michael Giordena, 14, was taken to a suburban hospital last night with internal injuries, a triple fracture of the pelvis and a broken leg.

Police said Giordena told them he was walking with several other boys when he saw the automobile bearing down on him. He ran, he said, but the motorist pursued him across a field.

Pynakker told police that he became angered when the boys cursed him as he drove past.

World of Letters is Mourning Irish Poet

Bournemouth, England, July 18.—(AP)—The world of letters mourned today the passing of George William Russell—AE—Irish journalist, poet and painter.

Already ill on his return from a trip to the United States a few months ago, Russell suffered a setback during the summer's first heat wave and died last night at a nursing home. He was 68 years old. The funeral will be Saturday in Dublin.

Forgot His Pistol

Hooper, Neb., July 18.—(AP)—Three gunmen abducted night Marshal Charles E. Mack early today, forced him to watch them steal two new automobiles from the Smida Brothers Motor Company and then bound him hand and foot and left him under the Elkhorn river bridge near here. Mack said the two were armed with two machine guns.

They halted Mack to ask where they could buy gasoline, and as he was telling them they jumped from the car, guns drawn, and forced him into their car. Mack said he was without his gun "for the first time in my life."

WAS AMBUSHED AT DOORWAY OF CHICAGO HOTEL

Shot Down From Apartment Across Street Early This Morn

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—Louis ("Two Gun") Alterie, "big time" Chicago gangster who survived some of the city's bloodiest bootlegging wars, was shot down as he left his hotel today and died an hour later.

A blast of shotgun fire dropped Alterie so seriously wounded that he barely survived the ambulance ride to Lakeview hospital. The gangster's assassins missed Alterie's companion, identified by police as his wife, Irma, 35.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief of the state's attorney's police, blamed the murder on "labor trouble." Once the partner of Dion O'Banion, pioneer Chicago bootlegger, Alterie had lately been an official of a janitors' union, Gilbert said, and kept the job even during his proprietorship of a Colorado "dude" ranch.

Made No Statement

Alterie was unconscious when he arrived at the hospital, and died without making any statement. Doctors said nine slugs had struck him.

His wife was taken into custody by the Town Hall police.

Alterie lived in the hotel in front of which he was shot down. In his room, police said they found a sub-machine gun, a shotgun and two shells.

Alterie took up the less arduous duties of running a ranch after participating in numerous gang battles, in which he was wounded several times.

He was a lieutenant of O'Banion at the time the first picturesque figure in the city's gang hierarchy was shot to death in his flower shop across the street from the Catholic cathedral.

Went West "for Health"

The O'Banion-Alterie mob had gained control of the north side's beer and booze distribution by virtue of their quickness with pistols. Although the south side Capone mob was blamed for O'Banion's killing, Alterie was later known as a Capone underling.

He went to Colorado "for his health" after a realignment in gangdom, and there received what he never had been given in Chicago—a prison sentence.

When the Federal government went after Al Capone for income tax evasion in 1931 and eventually convicted him, Alterie was brought back from his ranch to testify before the grand jury.

He was arrested for perjury afterward, but was never tried. Several months later he was brought back again and tried with Charles "Buster" Brown for the kidnaping of Edward Dobkin, but was acquitted.

Posed With Pistols

Alterie won his nickname "Two Gun" when O'Banion was murdered in the florist shop the latter operated across the street from Holy Name cathedral. Then Alterie posed for photographers, brandishing a pair of pistols, and announcing:

"I'll shoot it out at State and Madison streets with O'Banion's killers." The dueling scene he proposed is called "the world's busiest corner" in the heart of downtown Chicago.

Even though repeal of prohibition ruined the beer business, Alterie still lived in style. Waiting at the curb for him today, as he and his fashionably dressed brunette wife strolled from their hotel was an expensive sedan.

Other gangsters frowned on Alterie as a "wild man," noted for shooting out park lights and firing random shots in hotel rooms. First associated with a north side gang, with "Schemer" Drucci and O'Banion, he emerged unscathed from the bloody gang war they waged with Johnny Torrio's south side gang, reputedly because Alterie was a boon companion of Capone.

When Chicago became "too hot," Alterie went west to buy a ranch at Jarre Canon, Colo.

In True Gangland Style

Alterie was ambushed in traditional gangland style. His hotel, the Eastwood Towers, was at 236 Eastwood avenue, on the city's north side. Across the street, at 927, the killers rented a first floor apartment commanding a view of the door

RUBEN CHOSEN COMMANDER OF DIXON LEGION

Spirited Campaign of Ex-Service Men at End Last Night

The election of officers of Dixon post, No. 17, American Legion, proved to be so enthusiastic and of as large a scope as the average political election.

Fred Ruben, the present senior vice commander of the post, successfully manipulated his campaign of quite a lengthy duration and was elected commander for the incoming year through a split vote of the rebels, which was caused by the revival and re-entering of one candidate who had refused to run.

Dixon post No. 12 has had one of its best years this year through the leadership of its present commander, Walter M. Smith and they have shown a wonderful increase in its membership and have put into effect several school and civic activities.

The recent convention here was acclaimed by all to be the most successful ever held in the district.

Last night's attendance was the best on record and if this same crowd which turned out to elect the new officers will back them up throughout the coming year and take active part the post will be able to continue its successful program now in force.

The following officers were elected to fill the chairs for the ensuing year and will be installed in September:

Commander—Fred Ruben.
Senior Vice Commander—J. R. Fitzsimmons.
Junior Vice Commander—E. N. Bower.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Wyllie George.
Finance Officer—Rae A. Arnold.
Chaplain—Rev. J. A. Barnett.
Post Historian—Leon Baxley.
Judge Advocate—R. Gerald Jones.
Member Executive Committee for 3 years—Walter M. Smith.

Following the election of officers the post elected the following members as delegates to the dept. convention which convenes Aug. 24, 25, 26 and 27 in Quincy: E. N. Bower, Walter M. Smith, Rae A. Arnold, Fred J. Ruben; and the following as alternates: Pete Phalen, Jake Snyder, D. C. Bryant.

Government Not to Suspend Collection of Processing Tax

Washington, July 18—(AP)—Attorney General Cummings said today that the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals at Boston against the AAA's processing taxes would not prevent future collection of such taxes except in the particular case in which it was handed down.

Referring to more than 150 pending injunction suits to stop collection of the processing taxes in various parts of the country, the attorney general said, "a statute of long standing provides that no injunction shall be granted to restrain the collection of any tax."

BONUS RESUMED.
Rossville, Ga., July 18—(AP)—A bonus of $25,000 to $30,000 will be distributed this week-end to 950 employees of Peerless Woolen Mills, one of the oldest plants of its kind in Georgia. Suspended during depression, the bonus payment previously had been paid many years.

HORNER GOES FISHING.
Springfield, Ill., July 18—(AP)—Toward the fishing country in northern Wisconsin, Governor Horner today turned for his vacation.

Without announcing his exact destination, the governor planned to leave Springfield by mid-afternoon, to be gone for two weeks. Last year he went to Land o'Lakes, Wis.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN
The second mid-summer rally of the Brethren church will be held next Sunday. The interest manifested in the mid-summer rally last year was so pronounced that every one wanted to have a rally again this year. Special features have been planned for both morning and evening and evening services which will boost sentiment and increased interest even in the midst of summer. The mid-summer rally was planned for this date when the "Loyalty Endeavor Crusade" for the months of June, July and August was launched. The church has been delighted with the personal interest the members and friends of the church have taken in this ninety day crusade. Sunday school classes are uniting their efforts for a large attendance at Sunday school. The pastor in his sermon will tell why there should be a mid-summer rally, and although each service will be unique in itself aims for rally day. The evening service will consist of readings, songs, music and short talks and a sermon by the pastor. The day will be a busy one, but the rapidly increasing Sunday school presents an open door to greater service for every member of the church, and it is believed that this rally will be a happy experience for those who attend these services.

THE BEST NEWS

By Joseph Fort Newton

WHAT is the best piece of news in the paper today? It is full of all sorts of happenings, stories of the doings and undings of humanity, many of them stranger than any fiction ever told.

Wars and threats of war, of course, are a part of the tale. People in Europe are practicing wearing gas masks, preparing for war in the new style when the air naves grapple in the blue.

Here is the history of the day, from the heart-tragedy in the dismal city slum to the debates in the League of Nations—all the spicy, picturesque, unusual and startling facts and sayings.

News of armies and navies and the talk of peacemakers are side by side, with news about trade—or the lack of it—and wrangling of politicians, and all the tribe of the headline hunters.

Sports, markets, personalities, crimes, marriage muddles, divorces in which dirty linen is hung on the front gate—all the glorified gossip of the world served up with breakfast toast.

The ends of the earth meet in the newspaper—items from the remote corners of the world jostle the city scandal—the status quo which the old negro said is Latin "for the mess we are in."

What is the best news? It depends on who is reading the paper. For the sportsman it is sports, for the financier it is the markets—or maybe that is the worst part—each to his interest.

What is exciting to one is dull to another. We read what we want to read and throw the rest away, or skim it and forget it. We reveal ourselves by what we read in the morning paper.

For some of us the best news of the day told how three men had risked their lives by plunging into a river to save a child of seven, and one of them, a rising journalist, lost his life.

Tragic news? Yes, but news of the miracle of courage, and the love and sacrifice which forgets self-seeking, and therefore can conquer all the ills of the world. It is proof that man is divine.

Palmyra Farm and Home Community Cl. At H. Covert Home

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Covert delightfully entertained the members of the Palmyra Farm and Home Community Club at their home Tuesday evening, July 16th.

The president called the meeting to order and all enjoyed recitations by Ruth Boynton and Doris Gilbert, after which the speaker for the evening, Mr. Barton, field man from the Illinois Grain Co., gave a splendid talk.

The evening was then in charge of the Palmyra Home Bureau and ice cream and cake were served, and recreation was then enjoyed, led by Mrs. Jay Wadsworth. Music was furnished by Mrs. Kranov.

The president appointed the following committee to take charge of the picnic to be held in August—as follows: Mound District, Jesse Sivits; Prairieville Dist., Harry Fredericks; Gap Grove Dist., Clarence Lenox; Sugar Grove Dist., Oscar Buhler; Oak Forest Dist., Paul Harms; Wolverine Dist., Bert Boynton; Wild Cat Dist., Charles Mensch.

Mrs. I. Kendall Hostess to St. James Aid

St. James Aid Society met with Mrs. Ira Kendall July 10th. There were fourteen members and ten visitors present to enjoy the delicious picnic dinner followed by the meeting at 2 o'clock. The president read the 125th Psalm. All joined in singing several songs, and the treasurer's report was given. Several matters of interest were generally discussed. Cards of thanks for flowers were read. After the business meeting a short program and social hour were enjoyed. After a pleasant day all departed for their homes. There will be no August meeting.

The annual picnic will be on Aug. 4th, at Franklin Grove.

Mrs. Wm. Ware Hostess at Bridge

Mrs. Wm. Ware entertained delightfully Wednesday at the Country Club with a bridge luncheon, there being guests for three tables. Garden flowers were the attractive decorations. Miss Dorothy Armstrong won the favor for high score. Mrs. H. S. Nichols won the cut prize favor. Mrs. Horace Street of Minneapolis was presented a guest favor.

There will be a program and other amusements. An enjoyable evening is assured those attending, and everyone is welcome.

11th Annual Tennessee Picnic Sunday Krape Pk., Freeport

The eleventh annual Tennessee picnic Sunday at Krape park, Freeport, was attended by more than three hundred members of the group of Illinois residents who were born in Tennessee, and with their families join once a year in a big reunion, some of the guests coming several hundred miles, as far south as Gibson City and Bloomington. Among the latter was the president of the Central Illinois Picnic Association, Mr. Marcus Weaver and his family.

The community house was the scene of the gathering, which began with a dinner at one o'clock, followed by the business meeting and afternoon program on the terrace. Last year's officers were unanimously chosen for the coming year, as follows:

Pres. J. S. Rodeffer, Mt. Morris; Vice Pres. S. N. Shepherd, Roscoe; Sec. Treas. I. D. Rodeffer, Mt. Morris.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. J. W. Sanders, Rockford. C. E. Beecher, of Normal making the response. There were songs by the Sunshine Girls' radio club of Rockford; solo selections by the guitar players, Bob and Bud, Rockford, and popular numbers by Wanda Harmon, soloist, Mrs. Frances Harmon, guitarist, both of DePue, and S. J. Lehman, Shannon, who played the harmonica. Impromptu speeches were given by William Ballard and W. E. West, of Mt. Morris, and duets were sung by Atha and Martha Marsett.

Blackhawk park, Rockford, was chosen for the reunion next year, the date to be the second Sunday in July, with John Williams, of Rockford, general chairman of the arrangements, with power to appoint necessary committees and assistants.

Contests and games were enjoyed later in the afternoon, in charge of S. N. Shepherd, the winners receiving prizes that had been donated by a number of Freeport merchants. Everyone had a very enjoyable day and the officers wish to express their sincere appreciation to those merchants who helped to make the picnic a success.

Women Advised to Remember to be Women at All Times

Seattle, Wash., July 18—(AP)—In the face of a "back to the kitchen movement," women were advised today by Mrs. Emily Newell Blair to "remember to be women." "All over the world today, women fear a back to the kitchen movement," the head of the NRA consumers' council said in an address prepared for delivery at the national convention of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, "How, women ask, can it be stopped? Not by protests, nor legislation, nor force.

"Look at history for the answer. Whenever women had something the men did not, when they had a contribution to make which society needed, they were accorded recognition, exerted influence, were valued. * * * Women's values have always been those which tend to preserve life, make it more easy, more secure.

"To recognize this is not to induct men. * * * A world wholly woman-made would be a different and a poorer one. We owe men much, but a wholly man-made world is a cruel, unsafe one. It takes women with her insistence on security and ease, to put what men discover and invent to the service of mankind.

"It is to do this that women today must remember to be women."

CHRISTMAS CACTUS IS IN BLOOM

A Christmas cactus is in bloom at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Overstreet and in a few days will be a gorgeous sight. This day is far from Christmas in time and temperature, but the cactus is in bloom, just the same. A few of the large buds, a bright scarlet, are in blossom now and in a few days the twenty or more buds will open. The shape of the flower is somewhat like an orchid but the petals do not turn back, the stamens are white or cream color, like the center of the bell-like blossom.

TO BE IN DIXON ABOUT JULY 26th

Dr. and Mrs. J. Frank Young write from Ventnor, N. J., that they expect to leave that city Friday, and will stop in Washington and Baltimore a few days and will travel home via Indianapolis, expecting to arrive in Dixon on the 25th or 26th of July.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Schuler entertained yesterday at their home, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Randall of Los Angeles, Cal. Their son, George Schuler is married to Mrs. Randall's daughter.

Meeting of Palmyra Unit Home Bureau

The Palmyra Unit of the Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Dodd. The chairman, Mrs. Dollmeyer, called the meeting to order. Eleven members and two visitors responded to roll call. Officers were elected as follows:

Chairman—Mrs. Arthur Dodd

Vice chairman—Mrs. Verne Straw

Sec. and Treas.—Mrs. Edward Mensch

Mrs. Chas. McCourt gave a report of the 4-H club work, and the meeting was then turned over to the local leaders who gave the lesson, "Fitting Sleeve Problems." This proved very helpful to all who sew. The meeting then adjourned, all thanking Mrs. Dodd for their pleasant afternoon.

The meeting place for the September meeting will be announced later.

Janssen Reunion At Lutz Home

The Janssen reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Lutz, July 14th. There were about seventy members of the family present. The afternoon was spent in a social way, and a program was enjoyed. Baseball was enjoyed and ice cream and cake were served.

NOW YOU CAN SEE HOW PEACE THEORIES WORK

Whatever else it may do, the dust-up between Italy and Abyssinia is at least providing us with a practical test of some of our fine-spun theories about the way to work for a warless world.

An example or two can be found in the discussion of the matter held recently in the British House of Commons.

Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign minister, suggested that England would welcome any offer of American co-operation in the effort to avert war; but he warned the Commons not to expect too much, adding:

"Let us foster friendship and maintain in our intercourse a realistic attitude toward each other. We must expect no more from our American friends than they are willing to contribute."

This, of course, was simply a reminder that isolationist sentiment is so strong in America nowadays that Washington cannot be expected to make more than a gesture. And that, in turn, calls attention to a fact that friends of peace often overlook: when you try to stop two persons from fighting, it may be necessary for you to do it by force if they won't listen to reason.

In other words, Anglo-American intervention in this quarrel would have scant effect unless everybody clearly understood that in a showdown the two nations would use guns to enforce their views.

Since it is perfectly obvious that neither cares to do that, the sensible thing is to warn everybody to "expect no more from our American friends than they are willing to contribute."

All this, boiled down, simply means that the world is not yet ready for Leagues of Nations, Kellogg treaties, and so on. In the last analysis, these things must rest on force, or at least on the threat of force.

If it be known in advance that the force won't be applied, they collapse—as, in point of fact, they already have collapsed.

Then there is that other stunt, dear to the idealist, of embargoing the shipment of munitions to warring nations. The Commons were told that Britain has banned such shipments to Abyssinia, but has not needed to do so in the case of Italy, because Italy makes her own munitions and doesn't need to buy any.

In this case, the ban is less a move for peace than a deft bit of aid to Mussolini. It will not help prevent the war; it will merely make Italian victory more certain.

Here, then, are two bits of "peace machinery" getting a practical test. The one fails because no one cares to apply it properly; the other turns out to be a first-rate help to the party that is forcing the war.

IMPROVING ON NATURE

Those great stone faces which sculptors are carving on the rocky peaks of various mountains about the country provoked some heated argument at the recent national conference on state parks, held in Skyland, Va.

Gutzon Borglum, sculptor who is carving the giant memorial on the face of Mount Rushmore, in the Dakota Black Hills, said that such monuments were an integral part of natural scenic beauty. And then up rose Tom Wallace, editor of the Louisville Times, to declare that such projects are, in the very nature of things, horrible.

"All such things are an outrage," he declared. "They don't belong, anyway."

This gentleman seems to have voiced a thought that has occurred to more than one citizen in recent years. There is something permanent and inescapable about these giant memorials in living rock. You can't escape seeing them, and if you don't happen to like them there is nothing much you can do about it.

And that fact is perhaps an indication that we should go slowly in ordering any more of these mountain sculptures.

ERROR IN ART OF CHIVALRY

When a man who is not to the manner born tries to imitate the chivalric code of the southern gentleman, he runs the risk of making a spectacle of himself—and, also, of getting into serious trouble.

There is, for instance, the case of the New Yorker Samuel Rosenfeld, who got acquainted with a married woman in Atlanta, Ga., learned that her husband beat her, and decided to kill the man. He went to the man's house and shot the first man he saw—who turned out to be, not the husband, but a totally innocent and unoffending visitor. The man died, and Rosenfeld now faces trial for murder.

Rosenfeld remarked that he had nothing to be ashamed of, since he had followed "the best traditions of southern chivalry."

The code of the south does defend helpless womanhood, of course. But the chivalric southerner usually makes sure that he is aiming at the right man before he leans on the trigger.

Parole today is becoming one of the major menaces of America.—J. Edgar Hoover, head of G men.

The swordfish swam right out of sight. Then little Goldy Twymite said, "Hurry up and open that big chest. You tots are slow!"

"Perhaps a treasure is inside. We'll find out when the lid is pried. Just how the chest got down into the sea, I'd like to know."

"The chances are," the sea man said, "a ship was wrecked, just overhead. It may have been a pirate ship, just loaded down with gold."

"If I am right, the chest just sunk, and landed down here with a plunk. It's my guess, from the trimmings, that the chest is very old."

And then he added, "I feel fit, so let me pry a little bit. I guess I am stronger and I may meet with success."

He worked away for quite a while, and then he shouted, with a smile, "The lid is moving, now. It will pop open soon, I guess."

The next thing that whole bunch knew, right up the heavy chest lid flew. Then came a very big surprise that startled everyone.

Instead of gold, the chest held fish. A lot of tails began to swish, and fish were swimming everywhere. Wee Duncy cried, "What fun!"

"No wondrous treasure did we find, but what's the difference? We don't mind, 'cause we have set those fish free. That is something well worth while."

"They seem as tickled as can be to get into the open sea. Just look at that long fellow. His big mouth's spread in a smile."

"Aw, they weren't locked up," Scouty said. "Why don't you ever use your head? All of the fish have made the monstrous chest their home, no doubt."

"He's right," another Tiny cried. "There is a big hole in one side. Of course that makes it very clear how they got in and out."

HAILE APPEALS TO ETHIOPIANS TO FOLLOW HIM

Says All Will Die for Country if Necessary to Defend Liberty

Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, July 18.—(AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie called on all Ethiopians to follow him into battle today, declaring it was better to die free than to live without liberty.

The King of Kings and Lion of Judah addressed both his parliament and his soldiers.

In impassioned tones he said the military preparations by Italy now going forward proved the intentions of that country to conquer Ethiopia.

He called on all his subjects to unite and cooperate for the defense of the country saying he would lead the troops into war. He appealed to all not to fear death.

"Our ancestors," he shouted, "preserved their independence by sacrificing their lives. Follow their example!"

"God will be our fortress and shield and the modern armament of aggressors cannot deter our duty which is sacred for Ethiopian independence."

Reviewing Ethiopia's past relations with Italy and the events from the skirmish at Ualual last December until now, the emperor described Ethiopia's efforts for a peaceful settlement of the dispute and also similar efforts by the British which he said, Premier Mussolini of Italy had "brutally rejected."

He said the fact that Italian military preparations were continuing proved Italy's intention to conquer Ethiopia forcibly and said the danger of war was evident despite the fact Ethiopia was profoundly imbued with respect for promises and the sanctity of treaties.

He said Ethiopia did not wish war but would defend herself to the last man if attacked.

Hegemony Undesired
He said Ethiopia did not desire a hegemony and did not menace her neighbors but was mistress of her own country and would fight to the bitter end defending her integrity, independence and sovereignty.

The emperor declared that Italian intentions to use modern scientific weapons of warfare would meet with the resistance of all his subjects.

Haile Selassie declared: "Soldiers, when on the battlefield you learn the death of your beloved and respected chief, who has fallen in the defense of liberty, do not weep and do not despair but think of those who die for the fatherland as happy mortals. * * *

In Common Unity

"Regardless of faiths, all will face the invader in common unity, thwarting the efforts of Italy to create discord between Christians and Mohammedans."

"Your sovereign, now speaking, will be spilling all his blood for independence!"

He repeatedly stressed that Ethiopia does not want war and is desirous of following the ways of peace mentioned in the Kellogg-Briand pact. He said his appeal to the United States under that pact and the initiation of final steps by the League of Nations Council was proof of this desire.

Rome, July 18.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini informed his nation today that Italy's military preparations in her colony of Eritrea, east of Ethiopia, are in excellent shape. This announcement was contained in a telegram he sent General Debono, High Commissioner of Eritrea.

Ambassador Sugimura of Japan confirmed today the official Italian version of representations he made to Mussolini that Japan has no political interests in Ethiopia.

He said this assurance was in accord with general instructions he received at the time he came to Rome last December.

Italy charged Ethiopian tribesmen with "mutilating numerous children in a mass attack on defenseless natives of Eritrean Danacali."

People Indignant

Widespread indignation was aroused as the full details of the alleged raid on the Italian colony May 31, charged in a propaganda ministry communique, were published.

COURT TEST OF OLD CUSTOM IN ILLINOIS NEAR

Payment of Salaries to Widows of Judges is Termed Illegal

Springfield, Ill., July 18.—(AP)—The way was paved today for a court test to determine the constitutionality of the legislative practice of making salary appropriations to the widows of judges.

Governor Horner refused to approve four bills, which became law without his signature, to give $15,274.52 to four women as the salary their husbands would have received if death had not ended their judicial careers.

Although such appropriations have been customary for years, Attorney General Otto Kerner held that they violate the constitutional provision that "the state shall never x x x in any manner give, loan or extend its credit to, or in aid of, any public corporation, association or individual."

It is understood that the auditor or treasurer will refuse to pay the funds appropriated, permitting a mandamus suit to be carried to the Supreme Court to determine the issue.

In acting on the appropriations, the governor said: "If the bill is unconstitutional, it is void from the first time in this morning's Italian press."

Mussolini's own newspaper, Popolo d'Italia, reviewing the Italian crisis in an article believed to have been written or at least inspired by Il Duce himself, asserted:

"A duel opened with arms cannot be resolved except by arms."

A government spokesman gave assurance that Italy watched developments toward Ethiopian mobilization and a special session of the League of Nations Council, confident of its own preparedness and the justification of its cause.

the duty of the state officers charged with the disbursement of this appropriation to guard against any improper and illegal payment of state money from the state treasury."

The appropriations in question were for: $3,784.52 to Kathryn Niehaus, widow of Circuit Judge John M. Niehaus of Peoria; $8,000 to Mary G. Graham, widow of Circuit Judge Willis F. Graham of Monmouth; $2,740 to Bessie McDavid, widow of Circuit Judge Horace W. McDavid of Decatur, and $750 to Helen E. Pomeroy, widow of City Judge H. Sterling Pomeroy of Kewanee.

In each case, the sum appropriated represents the salary the judge would have received until the election of his successor.

Horner took similar action on a bill appropriating the full legislative salary of $3,500 to the widow of Warren B. Douglas, Chicago Republican Negro, who died soon after his election to the House of Representatives.

Woodcocks are one of the very few species of birds that have learned to carry their young to safety. If given time, the mother bird will transport her entire brood, one at a time.

ETHIOPIA GETS READY FOR WAR DESPITE RAINS

While Italy Rushes Additional Men and Air planes to Africa

Addis Ababa, July 18.—(AP)—An order for general mobilization of Ethiopian warriors was expected by authoritative sources today to be issued by Emperor Haile Selassie today when he addresses parliament.

Expectation of the order spread as the foreign ministry announced that the Ethiopian minister to Paris had been instructed to adhere to the international Red Cross convention.

Defensive military preparations became increasingly apparent.

Organization of an Ethiopian national Red Cross began while this capital, despite heavy rainfall, took on the aspect of an immense military training ground.

Work curtailed.

Extensive drilling was undertaken eagerly by all classes of people. Streets and squares were being used day and night, even government departments going on part-time work to permit drilling.

The chatter of machine guns and the boom of artillery were heard as troops plunged into practice maneuvers.

Other troops were being dispatched to the frontiers while those remaining behind and arriving for training were receiving new arms, khaki uniforms and instructions in war tactics.

Orders given to the troops were not divulged, nor was any information available to the number of soldiers.

Neutral residents stepped aside peacefully as authorities exercised extreme vigilance for any foreign spies.

ITALY PREPARES PLANES.

Rome, July 17.—(AP)—The national aviation service disclosed today plans to supply Italy's colonial forces with some 300 planes, threatening large-scale aerial warfare against Ethiopia.

The air service plunged into the project, designed to overcome the obstacles of Ethiopia's desert lands and mountain citadels, after an advance guard of 80 pilots and 24 planes sailed for East Africa.

General Giuseppe Valle, under-secretary for air, who had farewell to this contingent at Naples, indicated that he personally would take the major force to the colonies soon.

Regiment on regiment of black-shirt troops also marched to embarkation points. Other masses of recruits poured into training cantonments in response to Premier Benito Mussolini's orders for continual replacement of reserve forces.

Is "Misunderstood."

Il Duce, admitting openly that Italy's cause in East Africa has not been properly understood in some parts of the world, was insistent that Roman justice—and only Roman justice—should be employed to settle the issue.

He received the French ambassador, Count de Chambrun, late yesterday to discuss the crisis. He conferred also with the Japanese ambassador, Yotaro Sugimura, who assured him Japan had no interest in East Africa and would not intervene.

She "Outraged" Paris' Morals

Paris, July 18.—(AP)—Joan Warner, the blonde American dancer, was found guilty today of "outraging the morals" of Paris and was fined 50 francs—$3.30.

Miss Warner did her "outraging" by dancing in the nude. The decision against the American made a basis for a widespread prosecution of all nude dancers in theaters and night club here.

Judge Debrasier decided: "Mile Warner's dance is artistic but too naked."

The Illinois School of Beauty Culture at Rockford Monday, to complete her course.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shelly and daughter Georgene left Saturday on a two weeks vacation trip to Clearwater and Tampa, Fla.

Miss Helen Wooding is on a vacation this week from her duties at the McAllister-Bradbury store and is spending the time with Miss Sally Peters in Evanston.

Mrs. Frank Reed was a visitor over the weekend of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Goranson at Rockford.

Parnell Newcomer of Battle Creek, Michigan, called on A. S. Marshall Thursday.

Attorney and Mrs. Gerald Fearer and Mrs. Seville Spoor were Chicago visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Kiest and son were here over the weekend from Champaign where Mr. Kiest is attending summer school and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Siebert.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nice and daughter of Dixon were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Arbogast.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Jewett were visited Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brundage of Rochelle.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Stanley and daughter, Valdean left Tuesday on a vacation trip to Iowa. Their son

M. Faudrin, manager of the club where Joan danced, was fined 200 francs—about $13—because of his "purely commercial spirit."

The judge said Miss Warner's "powder and paint somewhat masked her nakedness, but the single article Mile. Warner wore concealed very little."

Unless it is upset on appeal, the verdict constitutes a police guide, the judge announcing: "A nude dance cannot be tolerated even if it is artistic."

Bobby is staying with his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Wilbur at New Milford.

Larry Cannon of Galesburg is a visitor of his brother William and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Berg accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Mount Morris are on a two weeks vacation trip at the summer cottage of Mrs. Berg's brother at Spooner, Wis. Mrs. Coolidge of Chicago is staying with the Berg children during their parents absence.

Adolf Whiffs Fifteen As Wires Triumph, 2-0 Browns Drub Millways

Millways' Two Scores Are Homers; Chix Get 7 Errors

Adolf Feldtang struck out fifteen of Youngmark's D-X Oils players contributing substantially to the 2 to 0 triumph of the Reynolds Wires over their Gold and Red jerseyed rivals at the Airport Wednesday night. In the opener the Buster Browns mercilessly flayed the Millway Chix into a 13 to 2 defeat.

Adolf was not only good at his customary position in the box in the Reynolds-D-X tilt. He surprised his ardent admirers with a good double base swat on his first trip to the plate in the third inning. His persistence in disregarding his coaches' advice and continuing his run to the third base cost him a run however as he was tagged on third. The first Wires run was postponed until the fourth inning when Frank Winebrenner rushed home as Frank Trotter singled. Carlson brought in the second tally for the Wires in the sixth.

Fail to Convert Hits

The Oils clouted two hits in the seventh but failed to convert either of them into runs that would have tied the score. Ankeny found Adolf for a single but was caught on second by an assist from E. Trotter to George Carlson. "Red" Flanagan binged but was left abandoned the path when Henderson struck out and Adolf retired the side.

BROWNS MAUL CHIX, 13-2
Bunching seven hits in two big innings, the Buster Browns cut the Millway Chix to ribbons last night. The Shoe men pushed over two runs in the first before the side was retired on a double play from Kays to Cortright, and thence to Witzleb. In the third frame the Browns taking advantage of bobbles by Scriven, Cortright and Kays piled up four runs on only one earned hit, a bingle off Kuhn's swift bat. Another tally ergy in the fourth netted the Browns three more runs and in a final broadside the Browns hammered three more hits off Lebre to count four runs, one a homer by Downs. Cook slammed a homer in the fourth.

Both Home Runs

The Millways' two counters were both home runs, Kays belting the first one into deep right field, a long, soaring fly, and Scriven, accorded last place in the batting order, gave the Chix their second homer and score.

HALLAHAN IS NOT OLD TIME "WILD BILL"

His Comeback Amazes Big Leagues Base Ball Fans

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR. (Associated Press Staff Writer)
Robert Moses Grove and "Wild" Bill Hallahan are the outstanding current candidates for the honor of staging the greatest major league comeback of 1935.
Grove has attracted more attention largely because of the $100,000 price tag he carried when Connie Mack sold him to the Red Sox, but the revival of Hallahan has been almost as remarkable.
Last season Hallahan, no longer as wild as he used to be, just managed to pitch ten complete games and had a record of eight victories and 12 losses with a pennant-winning club.
He got off to a poor start again this year, losing his first three games. He broke the spell late in June and has rolled up five successive victories, seemingly getting better on each start.
In four complete games since that first triumph, Bill has allowed a total of 14 hits, checking the Braves with four blows to extend the Cards' winning streak to 13 straight with a 2 to 1 triumph yesterday.
Had Real Opposition
Dutch Brandt provided some real opposition on the hill, giving only seven blows, but Terry Moore's ninth inning homer broke up the battle after Manager Frank Frisch smacked a pinch double and scored the tying run in the eighth.
Grove got on the victory road earlier and has won eleven games, the last five in succession. He assured the Red Sox of a stay in the American League's first division by pitching them to a 3 to 1 triumph over Cleveland in the second game of yesterday's doubleheader after they had won the opener 13 to 5.
The more famous "Lefty" was touched for eight blows while Monte Pearson gave the Sox only five, but his batterymate, Moe Berg, drove in three runs to decide the game. The twin triumph put the Red Hose into fourth place by two full games.
The Cardinal victory settled the team more firmly in second place.

Bordens Expect Triumph Tonight Over Eichlers

Followers of the Bordens softball ten are getting all steamed up with enthusiasm for the game tonight with the Eichlers, league-leaders of the City loop.

Walt Mueller, custodian of the lights at the Airport, and a Borden admirer from head to heels, insists the Milkmen will walk off the field victorious after their encounter with the Greenies. Others hope that Delts will be in good enough form to set the Clothiers down with as few hits as possible without overworking his support in the field.

Aren't Slouchy
The Eichlers on the other hand are not slouchy. They could not have been to attain their present station in the league. And they have sluggers furthermore. Unless they are halted within the next week they bid fair to walk away with the 1935 championship.
The game will be played at 7:30 P. M. tonight and in the second game which may prove even better than the first, the rising Winks Specials with their new-found hurler C. Daniels, will challenge the Knacks Leaders at 9 P. M.

EVANS SHOOT POOREST GAME OF HIS CAREER

Eliminated From the Title Bracket for the First Time

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 18.—(AP)—The "Boy Wonder" of another generation of golf was missing today as match play began in the Western Amateur tournament.
For the first time in his 26 years of competition in the Western, Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., of Chicago was not in the championship bracket.
Playing what he termed "the most heartbreaking round of golf" in his career, Evans shot a 157 yesterday and packed his bags for the return to Chicago.
"I was hitting the ball but not the greens," he said.
Only Nine Strokes
Only nine strokes separated the ends of the qualifying bracket with the medalist, Rodney Bliss, Jr., smooth hitting Omaha youngster, at one end with 142, two over par. At the other end were seven who were tied at 151. They were to play off the tie this morning to fill three blank spaces in the bracket.
Bliss, who played his last four holes in a near cloudburst which swept down from the mountains, was paired in the opening round with Charles Reesor, Duncan, Okla., who shot 148. Zell Eaton, the defending champion from Oklahoma City, was matched with Nathan Gimes, Denver, who qualified with 148.
A stroke behind the medalist were Jack Gaines, Los Angeles, former California champion; Berryhill, the Oklahoma champion; and Paul Leslie, southern intercollegiate Open champion from Louisiana State University.

HOLY CROWN of THE MAGYARS

MAGYARS, who find themselves separated by new national boundaries from their native land of Hungary, look to the Holy Crown of St. Stephan as a symbol of hope and ultimate reunion. This unique royal headgear really consists of two crowns. The upper part was presented by Pope Sylvester II to St. Stephan, first king of Hungary, in 1000 A. D., in recognition of Stephan's efforts to bring the various tribes that made up the Hungarians under the pale of Christianity.

Later, King Geza I, one of St. Stephan's successors, received the lower part as a separate crown from Michael Dukas, emperor of Byzantium, symbolizing recognition by the east of the cultural efforts of Hungary. Both crowns later were welded into one, a beautiful emblem studded with pearls, rubies and sapphires, and with symbolic paintings surrounding the life of the Magyars.

Today the Hungarians see this crown only in the stamps that they use, as shown here, for the country now is under republican rule.

Democrats Deny Coal Bill is Sidetracked

Washington, July 18 — (AP) — Democrats on the house ways and means committee were quick to deny today that the Guffey bill to regulate bituminous coal had been sidetracked.

A tacit decision by committee Democrats to give the Roosevelt tax program right of way over everything else was interpreted in some quarters as signifying that the Guffey bill had been pushed aside.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) and other said, however, that this was not so. They pointed out that the Guffey bill already is pending in a sub-committee and said there would be some occasions when the tax bill was not ready for further consideration. At such times, they said, the Guffey bill could be taken up for consideration by the full committee.

TVA HELD VALID BY U. S. APPEAL COURT IN SOUTH

Decision Will be Carried to Supreme Tribunal This Fall

New Orleans, July 18 — (AP) — President Roosevelt's vast social experiment—the sale of cheap electric power by the Tennessee Valley Authority—was held constitutional by the Circuit Court of Appeals here, but is still to be tested in the United States Supreme Court.

Joseph F. Johnston, one of the attorneys representing preferred stockholders of the Alabama Power Company, who contested the validity of the TVA, said at Birmingham an appeal would be taken promptly and probably heard by the Supreme Court in the fall.

The opinion rendered yesterday, affecting electric utility holders, consumers and prospective consumers, reversed a finding by Judge W. I. Grubb of the Northern District court of Alabama, who ruled congress did not have the right to authorize sale of the power.

The attack on the act was launched by preferred stockholders of the Alabama Power Company who sought to prevent the company from selling to the TVA for $1,150,000, its transmission lines running from Wilson dam at Muscle Shoals into seven Alabama counties.

Was Held Illegal
Judge Grubb in his ruling enjoined 17 Alabama municipalities from using federal funds to acquire electric power plants, contending that "TVA was engaged in illegal competition with the Alabama Power Co." The circuit court here, conceding that the project was launched primarily as a power supply for manufacture of munitions in war time, asserted it was within the "province of congress to adopt any reasonable means" to dispose of surplus power not needed in peace time.

"Of course it is true," the opinion read, "that the government of the United States cannot engage at will in private business, but it by no means follows that it cannot sell property which it owns, even though in doing so it may enter into competition with other public or private owners of property."

Conflicting Reactions
The ruling was hailed in various quarters with conflicting reactions. Jubilant citizens of Sheffield, Tusculum, Florence and Muscle Shoals, Ala., where the vast dams for power production are located shouted their approval in spontaneous demonstrations.

In Washington Senator Norris (R. Neb.) father of the TVA act, said "It's just what I expected. I think it's the only conclusion that any legal logical mind can reach."

under the TVA act and the constitution."

Representative May (D. Ky.) bitter foe of the project, said he had "no doubt" the supreme court would reverse the opinion.

DAILY HEALTH

PREVENTING CHILDREN'S FEVER: 1

The public has read many discussions on maternal mortality. Less notice has been given the heroic efforts being made by the medical profession to overcome the hazards of maternity. In one sector of this battlefield the campaign is intense. This is the sector dealing with puerperal sepsis—that is, with the infections associated with childbirth.

When a woman develops puerperal infection, she may have acquired it from someone else or from within herself. She may, in other words, have become contaminated by bacteria harbored by another person, or her infection may be the result of bacteria, originally present within her body, which were enabled to thrive because of the weakening she suffered during childbirth.

To diminish the hazards of infection from outside, in the best of our maternal hospitals every individual who comes in contact with women in labor is examined to determine whether or not he harbors within his body the bacteria most commonly responsible for puerperal sepsis.

These are the so-called hemolytic streptococci. If any of the physicians, students or nurses actively suffer infection or are carriers—that is, persons who harbor but do not suffer from these germs—they are excluded from the direct care of the patient.

Another precaution that is taken is thorough masking of the nose and mouth.

"Masking" requirements are imposed strictly upon every one who in any way at all comes in contact with the patients.

14 Killed, 144 Hurt in Japanese Temblor

Taihou, Formosa, July 18—(AP) —Forty-nine persons were killed and 144 injured, police estimated, in an earthquake centering in southern Shinsiku province. Police reported the Japanese empire's third fatal temblor in three months destroyed 224 buildings. As the earthquake shook the same area in which nearly 3,000 persons died April 21. Seismologists said this temblor was one of the after-shocks to the April disaster.

Telephone and telegraph lines were disrupted, and railway lines and bridges were damaged, but officials predicted that normal traffic could be resumed within a day.

BUSTER KEATON, "SWAPPED" WIFE FIGURE IN COURT

Wife of Film Comedian Alleges He Has Been Untrue to Her

Los Angeles, July 18.—(AP)—The aging but still agile figure of Buster Keaton bounced today into the already multi-tangled domestic affairs of the wealthy Sewell family of Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Mae Elizabeth Keaton added the name of her comedian-husband to several others in the Sewell affair when she unexpectedly filed suit yesterday for divorce and brought a $200,000 heart balm suit against Mrs. Leah Clappitt Sewell for allegedly stealing her mate's love.

"Ridiculous," retorted Mrs. Sewell as she sat in a Superior court room listening to arguments in her own marital litigation against her millionaire husband, Barton W. Sewell. Harking back to the recent sensational "wife swapping" charges involved in the divorce battle between Walter Emerson and his wife, Jane, in which the two Sewells rounded out a strange marital quadrangle, Mrs. Sewell added:

"To 'Protect Good Name'" "I think Mrs. Keaton will be very sorry she started anything like this. I've fought all this time to protect my good name and I'm not going to stop now."

Mrs. Keaton's petition charged that she found her fun-making husband and Mrs. Sewell together in a Santa Barbara county hotel last July 4 and that they remained there three days before returning here.

The Keatons were married Oct. 21, 1933, at Ventura, Calif., after his divorce from Natalie Talmadge, sister of Norma and Constance Talmadge of screen fame.

Mrs. Sewell's court appearance yesterday was in connection with her appeal for appointment of a receiver to take charge of her estranged mate's $28,000,000 estate pending trial of her suit for separate maintenance.

Sewell has established residence in Las Vegas, Nev. and started divorce proceedings there against Mrs. Sewell.

Brother Teams To Compete in Their Own Tournament

Wichita, Kas., July 18.—(AP)—It would be tough on the official scorers, but a tournament may be held here next month to pick a championship baseball team consisting solely of brothers.

At least four such teams exist in the United States, and Raymond Dumont said he was considering a "brother" team tournament in connection with the national semi-pro tourney here August 13-25.

The brother teams include the Marlatts of Casper, Wyo., the Simonses of Topeka, Kas., the Eichelbergers of Pekin, Ill., and the Deikes of San Antonio, Tex.

RELIEVES SOUR ACID STOMACH IN 10 MINUTES

Indigestion, Bilious Attacks And Acidity Yield Quickly To The New Formula Of Medicinal Plant Juices, Called Indo-Vin

Some of the worst cases of an upset stomach in this city have been relieved by a new formula of Nature's own ingredients, called Indo-Vin, which is now being introduced to the public here in Dixon at the Ford Hopkins drug store. People who for years have experienced distress after eating tell how this new medicine works with their food and overcomes the acid condition that causes fermentation, gas and other forms of suffering.

WHAT IT IS Indo-Vin is made from certain plants and, taken shortly after meals, mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus aiding the system to eliminate poisonous waste and permitting the kidneys and liver to function properly. It acts within 10 minutes to stop acid risings, bloating and belching.

Cleansing out these impure substances permits free flow of the digestive juices, makes the digestive organs sweet and clean and gives welcome relief from shortness of breath, lump in stomach and dyspepsia. Likewise, Indo-Vin has a great action upon the kidneys, liver and bowels, and thus it improves one's physical condition in general.

While Indo-Vin is being introduced in Dixon every suffering person can try it at the small cost of only a few cents a day. The Ford-Hopkins Drug Store, here in Dixon, is now introducing and explaining this great mixture of Nature's Medicines to the local public. Also being sold in all the nearby towns by every good drug-gist throughout this whole section.

SUN-TAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JO DARIEN, finishing her first year in college, learns her father is out of work. Jo gets a job as bookkeeper in a small marine supply store. She is engaged to BRETT PAUL, athletic star.

DOUGLAS MARSH, handsome, wealthy, comes to the store to buy equipment for the summer colony he is establishing at Crest Lake. Jo works overtime, assisting with the order, and Marsh asks her to have dinner with him. She agrees.

Marsh tells her about his summer colony and offers Jo the job of hostess there. Scarcely able to believe such good luck, she accepts. When Brett hears about her new job they quarrel and Jo tells him their engagement is at an end.

Next day she goes to Crest Lake. Marsh meets her. He warns her that some people consider his mother "eccentric."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER X

JO'S doubt was quickly forgotten when the green roadster topped a gentle rise in the road and she saw below her the broad and breathless beauty of Crest Lake. It was so wide that the opposite shore was almost obscured by the mists of an early dusk, and it stretched to either side of the smooth clearing below, disappearing beyond the thick green of the trees. Unconsciously Douglas Marsh halted the car to get a moment's view.

"Oh," cried Jo in delight, "it's— it's beautiful!"

It was not just as she remembered it from the summer motor trip with her parents, for below her the trees and stumps had been cleared to make a wide clearing which was carpeted now with clipped grass. She saw the corner of a tennis court, and beyond it, a golf green that edged along a small neck of the lake. Marsh allowed the car to coast slowly down the hill now, and in a moment Jo saw the new Crest Lake Inn, a huge and rambling structure of logs and shingle roof, with unbelievably wide windows and a veranda on the lake side.

"Perhaps," said Marsh dubiously, "I should have left the spot alone. It's always dangerous to try to improve on nature."

Jo shook her head. "I think it's wonderful."

What Marsh had done he had done with infinite taste. The Inn seemed to belong to its setting quite as much as the lake itself, and there was nothing gaudy or jarring to mar the natural charm of the place.

"The cottages are beyond the Inn," Marsh said. "We can't see them from here. The Inn is even larger than it looks. Mother and I have our rooms there, and I've reserved a suite for you which overlooks the lake. I think you'll find it very pleasant."

"I'm sure of it," breathed Jo.

As they drew nearer to the clearing she saw the boat house, the long low dock which ran out to a safe depth for even a deep-keeled sail boat which was moored along side. When the car rolled into the wider gravelled road, two men in slacks and sweaters waved at Marsh from the golf course.

"Chris! Gunder and Todd Barton," he explained to Jo, returning the pair's greeting. "Gunder holds most of the stock in Lyden's where you say you bankrupted me yesterday—and Barton's the aviator. You know, long-distance records and all that business."

Jo laughed. "I've seen his picture in the advertisements, endorsing a cigarette."

"Well," Marsh replied, joining her laughter, "he can't be flying all the time!"

As they drew alongside the huge wooden steps of the Inn two white-coated Japanese boys appeared excitedly and began groping for the luggage in the rumble seat.

"I'll tell you now about these boys," Marsh whispered, "because you will have to direct them occasionally. We have six at the Inn three on a shift—and just to simplify matters I call each set of three Tom, Dick and Harry. That's Harry taking your bag up the steps, and this—hello, Tom!"

"Mornin' Mistah Marsh," said Tom, grinning.

"Have you Miss Darien's rooms ready, Tom?"

"Yissah, yissah," said Tom, opening the roadster door for Jo to alight.

Jo could not repress a gasp of delight at the great lobby of the Inn. Its expanse of gleaming floor was dotted with thick bear rugs and at one end a fireplace was throwing out a cheery blaze. Jo reflected amusedly that the Inn's fireplace was as large as the apartment she'd taken at the Pendale!

"The place is a bit deserted as yet," Marsh told her. "They'll be in to drift in next week. I imagine." He led her to the desk where a young man waited smiling. "Miss Darien," the owner of the Inn went on, "this is Mr. Penton who's at the desk in the daytime."

"How do you do, Miss Darien,"

Maytown scored six runs. Manager Webber used Hermann and A. Chaon, while Maytown used two twirlers in Bonuch and Vickrey. Errors were frequent in the latter part of the game which were largely responsible for the loss.

Next Sunday afternoon the local club will entertain Lee Center here at the Carnahan service station baseball park.

An ice cream social will be sponsored by Circle 3 of the M. E. Ladies Aid Thursday evening, July 25th at 7:45 at the Harvey Rhoades home. Home made ice cream and cake will be served. An hour of music and song will be furnished by Eldon Johnson and Erwin Mitton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Bailey, Mrs. Ed Price of Mendota, Clarence Rasmussen and two sons of Rockford, and Mrs. Clara Fairchild were callers at the Ed G. Short home Sunday.

Hospital Notes

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Earl Montavon Thursday.

Dr. C. G. Pool accompanied Mrs. Carrie Cook to Ottawa Saturday where she will remain for three weeks' treatment.

Mrs. John Zimmerman was given medical attention for a severely injured hand.

Mrs. Amund Birdal is suffering from an infection of the hand.

Mrs. Cornelius Clark of Amboy who has been ill is much improved.

Mrs. Antone Haefner has not been so well the past week.

Dr. C. G. Pool accompanied George Swope to Ottawa Sunday. Mr. Swope will undergo X-ray treatments by Dr. Roswell Pettit.

Mrs. Wilbur Pfeiffer has been ill the past few days.

Mrs. Law is suffering from an infected hand.

The William Archer family was immunized against scarlet fever.

Marsh said, "Pardon me, Jo. I think this may be from Pete Fragonet."

Penton said, "If there's anything I can do to make your stay more pleasant be sure to let me know."

"Well," Marsh replied, joining her laughter, "he can't be flying all the time!"

As they drew alongside the huge wooden steps of the Inn two white-coated Japanese boys appeared excitedly and began groping for the luggage in the rumble seat.

"I'll tell you now about these boys," Marsh whispered, "because you will have to direct them occasionally. We have six at the Inn three on a shift—and just to simplify matters I call each set of three Tom, Dick and Harry. That's Harry taking your bag up the steps, and this—hello, Tom!"

"How do you do, Miss Darien,"

Marsh nodded. "Pardon me, Jo. I think this may be from Pete Fragonet. . . . He glanced at the short transcription of the telegram. "Yes, it's from Fragonet. The studio has given him some time off, and he'll be here with his wife next week." He shoved the note into his pocket. "Now let me take you to your rooms. I didn't have an elevator put in," he laughed. "After all people should have exercise on their vacations—and it's only one flight."

"Most of the people who will be here," he continued, starting for the stairway, "are slender and young enough not to mind too much. You see, this isn't just an Inn. The guests will come by invitation and the majority are friends of mine. Of course if they wish to bring others I don't mind. And I suppose if someone asked to come I wouldn't refuse." He laughed gaily. "I think it will be a lot of fun myself—but Mother's very dubious about it, although she likes the place."

"When will I meet your mother?" Jo asked with trepidation.

He glanced at his watch. "You'll have time for a tub before dinner. Suppose we three have dinner together? I'll meet you downstairs—but first I want to see if you like your rooms."

Jo did like her rooms. She liked them tremendously, and she could imagine they would be twice as attractive in broad daylight when the sun streamed in on the gay carpet and the chintz curtains. There was a fair-sized sitting room, furnished with comfort and dignity; a small bedroom; and a shower and bath. There was even on the desk a row of new and brightly jacketed modern novels!

"I never saw such a charming room," Jo told Marsh, her eyes taking it in delightedly.

"I'm glad you like them," Marsh answered. He seemed genuinely pleased at her delight. "I don't want you to feel you have any set rooms here. If some morning you feel like staying in bed until noon, then by all means stay in bed until noon. You can play tennis, or go bathing, or dance, or—well, anything you like—because you'll have to be the feminine touch in the management. I'm just a mere male, and of course I can't expect Mother to go in for these things."

Jo laughed. "It doesn't sound like a job at all, Mr. Marsh. I'm afraid when summer is over I'll be so spoiled I won't even be able to find a job that suits me!"

"You shouldn't worry about that now, Jo. Besides, it's very nice here in the fall, and I might decide to keep the place open until the end of October." He started for the door. "See you at dinner, then?"

Jo nodded, and when he had gone she stood in the center of the room for several minutes, gazing unbelievably at the smooth lake beyond the windows. An odd question was troubling her. Why wasn't she quite happy with all this? Why shouldn't she be really delighted with a job that paid so well, that meant so much to her, and was hardly anything but play? Was it—was it because of Brett?

Since last night she had put Brett Paul out of her mind as well as she might; but occasionally the memory of him standing there, accusingly, would pass across her brain in a troubled wave. After all, could she blame Brett Paul for thinking as he did? Brett had known work all his life, had known that you had to pay for whatever you got in this world, and how fortunate that he wouldn't be jealous of Marsh unless he loved her.

As she undressed for the shower she wondered vaguely if losing Brett could be what she must pay for an idyllic summer at Crest Lake. Yet there was pride enough in her to tell her that if Brett didn't believe in her, then he didn't deserve her.

Her thoughts were interrupted by a sudden knocking at her door, and the voice of one of the Japanese boys saying, "Miss Darien—Misses Marsh say dinner is in five minutes. She say she want to have dinner earlier tonight."

FAMOUS NATIVE OF ROCHELLE TO BE KABLE GUEST

Dixon Musicians Also to Appear in Concert at Mt. Morris Saturday

Captain Howard C. Bronson, director of the Kable Brothers 129th infantry band, has announced a particularly interesting program for the regular weekly concert to be held at Mt. Morris Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Two Dixon soloists will appear on the program, Russell Mason and Robert Fulmer.

An internationally famous author and writer, Earl Chapin May, will direct one of the numbers during the evening. Fame as an author has not dimmed his interest in bands and band music. Though for many years a resident of New York City, Mr. May is a native of Rochelle, where he spent his boyhood, going to school and learning to play the cornet, finally finding a place in the Rochelle Silver Cornet band 'way back in the '90s. The cornet accompanied him to college and then because of his ability as a performer, his horn furnished the medium by which he entered the circus world, about which he has written so authoritatively.

His "Cuddy of the White Tops," "Steaming Up," "The Circus from Rome to Ringling," are his better known books on life in the saw dust ring, and he has long been a contributor of fiction and fiction to numerous nationally read magazines. His books, "2,000 Miles Through Chile," and "The Prairie Pirates" are outstanding works of this remarkably gifted man.

To Direct Sousa March

Accompanied by his equally gifted wife, Stella Burke May, who is a famous authoress in her own right, Mr. May has been spending several weeks in his old home town. Earl is living again the days of the Silver Cornet band. There are a few original members still serving in Rochelle's present splendid municipal band, Art Lazier, Wilbur McHenry, Johnny Bain, Clam Oyster George England and Charley Lake of Ashton. Whole days have been spent sitting in front of the feed store gassing with some old timer, but the former Rochelle boy never tires of reminiscing about the picnics, celebrations, campaign jogs and other engagements the Silver Cornets so creditably filled. Mr. May has selected Sousa's stirring march of the Marines, "Sempre Fidelis," for his appearance as guest conductor next Saturday evening.

Robert Fulmer, talented son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Fulmer of Dixon, will make his initial appearance in Mt. Morris Saturday evening. Possessing a rich, well trained baritone voice, Mr. Fulmer's vocal work met with unusual success at the Century of Progress, where he sang to an audience of several thousand, responding to numerous encores as soloist with the Dixon Municipal band.

Russell Mason, flute and piccolo soloist, is recognized as one of America's leading artists. For many years principal flutist of the Dasch Little Symphony of Chicago, Mr. Mason has been soloist with the Colorado Midland band of Colorado Springs, principal flutist of the Russian Ballet and flute accompanist to Madame Melius, world famed opera and concert diva. Mr. Mason is also a very proficient performer upon the clarinet, saxophone and oboe, as well as being a composer of outstanding ability. During the early spring, a concert made up largely of Mr. Mason's numbers, was given in Unity Hall, Rockford. His compositions included a concerto for pipe organ, several vocal numbers and a group of pieces for woodwind quintet. Formerly conductor of the Dixon Municipal band Mr. Mason is a member of the American Bandmasters' association.

The program for Saturday evening is as follows:

- March, "United States Military Academy" Rosenkranz
- Rhapsody, "Slavonic" Friedman
- a. Idyll, "The Old Mill" Ramsdell
- Piccolo solo, "Thru' the Air" Damm
- Russell Mason
- Valse, "Skaters" Waldteufel (Request)
- b. Marche, "Militaire 1" Schubert (Request)
- Descriptive Suite, "Atlantis" Safranek
- I. "Morning and Hymn of Praise," II. "A Court Function," III. "The Prince and Anna (I Love Thee)," IV. "Destruction of Atlantis," c. March, "Sempre Fidelis" Sousa
- Conducted by the noted author, Earl Chapin May
- INTERMISSION
- "Victor Herbert Favorites"
- Arranged by Lake
- d. "She's a Latin From Manhattan" Dublin
- Vocal solo, "Sweetheart Darlin'" Stothart
- Robert Fulmer
- Humoresque, "The Girl I Left Behind Me" Bellstedt
- e. March, "Glory Of The Trumpets" Brokenshire
- NATIONAL ANTHEM

FUTURE SET-UP WESTERN LIP IS UNDECIDED

Des Moines, Ia., July 18.—(AP)—The future setup of the Western league remained indefinite today, following the withdrawal of financially-troubled Rock Island, but a definite statement clarifying the situation was promised by league President Dale Gear before game-time tonight.

Three future possibilities remained open for the organization. If a new Rock Island franchise owner is found the league may continue with eight clubs; it may continue with seven clubs by holding one team idle each night, or the number may be reduced to six by withdrawal of another team.

Rock Island, long troubled with mounting debts, presented the resignation at a league meeting at Cedar Rapids late yesterday and cancelled its game with St. Joseph. Islander players refused to take the field Tuesday night because of failure to receive back salaries, estimated upwards of $2,500.

Some league followers inclined to the opinion the league may be cut to six teams unless overdue salaries of Council Bluffs players are adjusted.

PAIRINGS MADE FOR GERMAN-U. S. DAVISCUP MATCH

London, July 18.—(AP)—The draw for the interzone Davis Cup matches between the United States and Germany starting Saturday, was made here today.

Two singles matches will be played Saturday, the first between Donald Budge of Oakland, Cal., and Heiner Henkel, the youthful German star. This pair will be followed to the court by Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., ranking American player, and Baron Gottfried von Cramm, ace of the German squad.

The doubles matches Monday will find Allison and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia teamed against Von Cramm and K. Lund. Following this match, Helen Jacobs, the American women's champion, and Gene Mako of Los Angeles, will play a mixed doubles contest against an English team to be named later.

In two more singles matches to be played Tuesday, Allison will meet Henkel and Von Cramm will play Budge.

HORNER VETOED TWO REMAINING BILLS ON DESK

Amendments to Liquor and Banking Statutes Killed by Governor

Springfield, Ill., July 18.—(AP)—Vetoes by Governor Horner today killed legislative proposals to permit liquor to be made from blackstrap molasses and to limit the double liability of bank stockholders.

As he took action on the last two bills remaining from the 61st passed by the General Assembly, the governor planned to leave within a few days for a fishing vacation in northern Wisconsin.

Saying both subjects could be taken up at the anticipated special session, Horner vetoed the bills to submit to a referendum amendments to the state banking act and to amend the liquor control act.

He pointed out that the Graham bill removed the requirement that whiskey and gin can be distilled only from a grain mash and said it would be "adverse to agriculture, one of the most important interests in Illinois."

Farm organizations insisted that the original liquor control act carry the grain mash provision to prevent distilleries from using blackstrap molasses and reducing the consumption of farm crops.

Other objectional features to the liquor bill were cited in the veto message.

On the ground that it is unconstitutional, the governor refused to approve the amendment, to permit the liability of bank stockholders to end sixty days after formal notice is filed that their stock has been sold.

He said this provision in the bill would nullify the constitutional safeguard.

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes

Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestines, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters, which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass thru the bladder 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this, your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need clearing out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to wash out your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.
